

“Come to Me, all who labor and are heavy laden,
and I will give you rest.”
+ Matthew 11:28

THE FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

July 5, 2020

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Rest is elusive. At the close of each day, we must confess with Saint Paul that we had “the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out.” In our tiredness, the mirror shows our battle scars. But Zechariah wrote of a day when the battle would be over, thanks to a coming King, who would set the prisoners free. His description points us to Jesus on Palm Sunday, where by His death and resurrection we have been set free from our bondage to sin. His deep and abiding compassion for us shows forth in His prayer of thanksgiving to our heavenly Father.

In our Savior, we find the rest we need each day. When compared to the failing struggle in which we engage each day, we find His yoke is truly easy and His burden is truly light. As David wrote in the psalm, “The LORD upholds all who are falling and raises up all who are bowed down.” He gives rest for the soul! Thanks be to God!

READINGS

FIRST READING

Zechariah 9:9–12

⁹Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion! Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem! Behold, your King is coming to you; righteous and having salvation is He, humble and mounted on a donkey, on a colt, the foal of a donkey. ¹⁰I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim and the war horse from Jerusalem; and the battle bow shall be cut off, and He shall speak peace to the nations; His rule shall be from sea to sea, and from the River to the ends of the earth. ¹¹As for you also, because of the blood of My covenant with you, I will set your prisoners free from the waterless pit. ¹²Return to your stronghold, O prisoners of hope; today I declare that I will restore to you double.

L O Lord, have mercy on us.

C Thanks be to God.

SECOND READING

Romans 7:14–25a

¹⁴We know that the law is spiritual, but I am of the flesh, sold under sin. ¹⁵I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. ¹⁶Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. ¹⁷So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. ¹⁸For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. ¹⁹For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. ²⁰Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me.

²¹So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. ²²For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, ²³but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. ²⁴Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? ²⁵Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord!

L O Lord, have mercy on us.

C Thanks be to God.

HOLY GOSPEL

Matthew 11:25-30

P The Holy Gospel according to Saint Matthew, the eleventh chapter.

Glo - ry be to Thee, O Lord.

²⁵At that time Jesus declared, "I thank You, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that You have hidden these things from the wise and understanding and revealed them to little children; ²⁶yes, Father, for such was Your gracious will. ²⁷All things have been handed over to Me by My Father, and no one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal Him. ²⁸Come to Me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. ²⁹Take My yoke upon You, and learn from Me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. ³⁰For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light."

P This is the Gospel of the Lord.

Praise be to Thee, O Christ.

RESPONSORY

Psalm 119:89; 26:8; Luke 11:28

† SOLI DEO GLORIA †
(TO GOD ALONE BE THE GLORY)

SOME FINAL THOUGHTS FROM YOUR PASTOR

Brothers and sisters,

Happy Independence Day!

I always looked forward to the 4th of July – it was time to set off the fireworks and that little inner pyromaniac (that I think is present in all young boys) was stoked! One of my favorites was the little “pop-snaps” that you could throw and crush between your fingers (or toss at your brother when Mom wasn’t looking). Or maybe you remember those little tanks that had the “rocket” at the back? They would shoot forward for a couple of feet and then the cannon would pop out little sparks! My brother and I would line them up across from each other and have our own little “wars.”

Ahhh . . . good times. And I still have all my fingers! ☺

But Independence Day seems to have fallen out of favor with some this past year (in truth, it seems that the United States of America has fallen out of favor entirely with some). And that makes me sad. This nation was founded, as we hear in the Declaration of Independence, on the “self-evident” truths “that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.”

These are beautiful ideals, enacted imperfectly by imperfect people, but ideals worth celebrating and worth pursuing . . . even if they can never fully be realized this side of glory.

More than this, the Declaration of Independence makes another, larger point—we are a nation of ontological reality: these truths are self-evident. What this means is that our equality and our unalienable rights are guaranteed not by strength or power or negotiation (as would be with “social contracts”) but exist within the very fabric of creation, having been given or endowed by our Creator.

It reminds me of how Saint Paul argues that “what can be known about God is plain [to all mankind], because God has shown it to them. For His invisible attributes, namely, His eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made” (Rom 1:19-20a). Saint Paul is talking in the same manner as our nation’s founders—it is as if Saint Paul were to say, “God is self-evident because we see Him in the things that He has made.”

And that, brothers and sisters, is perhaps what most differentiates our republic from any other government enacted by mankind—we are not a nation of quid pro quo, negotiating a delicate peace between the competing interests of various peoples and groups but are a nation based in the absolute reality of human existence, in the ontological truths that God set forth at the creation of the world.

But knowing God more fully is always best. So please join me for our Study of the Psalms on “Zoom” every Tuesday at Noon (ending by 1:00pm). We socialize for the first 15 minutes and work through the psalm from 12:15pm to 12:45pm, concluding by 1:00pm. This week we study Psalm 11.

- To join the study on your computer, go to <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/7603525715>
- To join by phone, call either “669-900-9128” or “346-248-7799” and enter 7603525715#

And tune-in to Facebook each Wednesday night at 7:00pm for a short (30 minute) service of prayer and meditation on the psalm. The service folder will be on our website (www.GraceLutheranElCentro.org) and the live-stream will be on our Facebook page (www.facebook.com/GraceLutheranElCentro).

Lastly, please continue to mail your tithes and offerings to the church's post office box:
